In March, our NorCal region lost Classic Overview editor, board member and good friend Jim Korn to cancer. He was 78 years young. Jim was born and raised in Rochester, New York. After serving his country in the Air Force, Jim went to college and graduated with degrees in aeronautical engineering, specializing in engine technology. He did work on the “Blackbird” project and retired from Allison. In addition to his great fondness for fine automobiles, Jim also had a passion for snow skiing and was quite an accomplished artist. He joined NorCal in the late nineties with his 1940 Cadillac 60S. Jim was a great volunteer and helped produce a number of Grand Classic™ and CARavan™ programs. In 2005 he became our newsletter editor and introduced us to our now familiar format with color features. His work was recognized by National for which he received awards and honors. Jim is survived by a son and daughter, four grandchildren, one great grandchild and of course his beloved Paula Kinahon to whom we extend our deepest condolences.
